Article Delivery Pilot Program using “Get It Now” Service

What is Get It Now?
Get It Now is an exciting new method for delivering articles from selected unsubscribed journals. Using Copyright Clearance Center’s Get It Now, you can have full-text, high-quality PDFs of articles sent directly to you via email. Average turnaround time for Get It Now articles is less than five minutes.

How Do I Use Get It Now?

Navigate to the Citation Linker tab on the Library's eJournals page; enter the citation information of the article you want to order. (Hint: For easiest access, use the article's PMID [PubMed ID] if you have it). After submitting the citation information, click on the Get It Now service link. Next, enter your University ID and the email address where the article will be delivered. A confirmation email confirms your order and a few minutes later you will receive an email with your article attached.

What Journals are Available via Get It Now?

During the Library’s pilot program with Get It Now, you can order articles from any of the following journals:
